Lost in fog, pilot lands plane near Wilberforce

Volunteer firemen monitor drama by radio as controllers try to direct aircraft to Martin's mill

The pilot of a single engine private aircraft landed his machine safely in a field near Wilberforce shortly after 7 p.m. Monday evening after he apparently lost his way in fog.

Gary Earl Insley, of Thunder Bay, brought his 1973 Piper Cherokee

Cruiser down in a field west of the hamlet without difficulty, after circling the area for more than an hour. Police were called to the scene shortly after 6 p.m. when it became apparent that Insley was experiencing difficulty due to poor visibility along his flight path. No information on his destination was available from police Tuesday morning.

Monmouth reeve Keith Tallman, who was on the scene when the aircraft landed, said township firemen were alerted to the drama after the aircraft was heard circling Wilberforce. Using radio equipment in a fire vehicle, firemen were able to monitor Insley's conversation with air traffic controllers at the Muskoka airport in Bracebridge, although they could not speak to the pilot directly.

According to the reeve the Muskoka controllers tried to direct Insley to the airstrip at G.W. Martin's mill north of Harcourt, but the pilot was unable to locate it. Muskoka controllers then said a helicopter would be sent out to assist Insley in finding a suitable landing site, but he was running out of fuel, and decided to risk a landing in the Wilberforce area, where there was a break in the fog.

Reeve Tallman said firemen blocked traffic on Highway 648 to reduce the risk of a mishap, then rushed to the scene of the landing in case rescue operations were necessary. However Insley brought the plane down without damage, at about 7:10 p.m.

Tallman said the plane was still in the field on Tuesday morning, but that the pilot hoped to continue his journey once his aircraft is refueled and weather conditions improve.

While some Monmouth firemen were monitoring Insley's plight, others were responding to a cottage fire at Otter Lake. The call came at approximately 5:30 p.m., and firemen were on the scene until approximately 8:30 p.m. The cottage was completely destroyed, but no other details were available.

Easter sunrise service held at Skyline Park

Scores of local residents, cottagers and visitors got up bright and early on Sunday morning to attend a 7 a.m. sunrise service at Skyline Park overlooking Haliburton village. Anglican church minister Rev. John Phillips, at centre, was among the local clergymen who took part in the interdenominational service.

Gary McKnight on mend

Deputy reeve in hospital after heart attack

Dysart et al deputy reeve Gary McKnight is recovering in Toronto's Sunnybrook Hospital after suffering a heart attack last week.

McKnight experienced chest pains last Tuesday and received initial treatment at Haliburton hospital. Later he was transferred by air ambulance to the Toronto facility and placed in the intensive care unit.

He was reported to be out of intensive care on Sunday and resting comfortably.

Anyone wishing to send get well wishes to Gary McKnight should address them care of Sunnybrook Hospital, 3D, Room 3547.

The Echo staff join friends and acquaintances in wishing him a full and rapid recovery.

Consultants' report suggests airport facility improvements

A master plan that advocates improvements to Stanhope municipal airport has been approved by township council. The plan, prepared by the consulting engineering firm of Marshall, Macklin and Monahan, is an update of an earlier plan prepared by the firm but never acted on by council.

Reeve Harry Davis said in an interview Tuesday that council decided to take a new look at the airport's future when criteria for federal funding assistance were altered to include more southerly areas of the province.

Work on the master plan began last December. The consultants came up with a number of alternatives, including a substantially enlarged facility, but council rejected any extensive changes. The decision to confine any improvements to the east side of airport road responds to concerns expressed by property owners on the west side of the road, including Maple Sands Resort and the Maple Lake Property Owners Association.

The development alternative favoured by council includes lengthening the existing 1640 foot runway to 2,559 feet and paving it. As well, the plan envisions a paved apron, a tie down area, a roadway on the airport property, and more hangers.

Davis stressed that council's support for the idea of lengthening and paving the runway "does not in any way constitute a commitment". However, he added, "council would like to see it upgraded."

The consultants are expected to provide council with detailed cost estimates of the proposed work in the next few weeks. The federal government would meet 80 percent of the cost of improvements if it agrees that they are needed. The municipal share would have to be met over a one or two year period, Davis said, since it would not be the intention of the present council to debenture the cost.

The federal government will meet 80 percent of the cost of the present study, estimated at between $3000 and $4000, Davis said.

Contract awarded for design of bridge

Proposals from consulting engineering firms hoping to design the new Ingoldsby bridge closed Tuesday, and the county roads committee was expected to make a final decision by mid week on who would get the design contract.

Branch 129 to host Legion convention

More than 300 Legionnaires, their wives and families will begin arriving in the Haliburton area on Friday for the annual District 'F' Convention. It is the first time that Branch 129 has hosted the convention, and branch officials have spent months preparing for the event.

Activities will get underway Friday evening with registration between 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., and a wine and cheese reception compliments of the Municipality of Dysart et al.

Conventioners will then return to local resorts, which have been busy processing reservations all week.

Registration will continue at 8 a.m. Saturday, and at 9 a.m. the convention will be called to order. Opening ceremonies will include messages of welcome from County

Warden Lyle McKnight, Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey, Branch 129 president Bruce McKay, and zone commander Mel Robertson.

Following the opening ceremonies the business section of the convention will get underway. The session is expected to last until late afternoon.

The convention will resume Sunday morning at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day. A highlight of Sunday's activities will be a parade, which takes place between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m., and should provide a colourful spectacle for local residents and visitors.

Following the parade, business activities will resume, and continue until late afternoon, when closing ceremonies will be held.

County Historical Society now reality

A county wide Historical Society was formed Thursday night at a meeting in Minden. An estimated 35 people turned up to lend support to the concept of a local historical body.

Frank Wallace, a history teacher at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, was elected chairman of the society. Others elected to the board include Bob Wiltshire of Boshkung Lake, Godfrey Tyler of Haliburton, Karl Hartwick of Haliburton and Bob Davis of Maple Lake.

Membership dues to the Haliburton County Historical Society were set at $12 per year.

Stanhope reeve Harry Davis, who was instrumental in drumming up interest in the society, said the appointment of a board has ended his role as initiator.

Main impetus for the formation of a society is the possibility of preserving and improving the Kanawa Canoe Museum in Stanhope Township. Davis said one of the Society's first tasks will be to begin negotiations with collection owner Kirk Wipper of Toronto aimed at defining the role a local group might play in helping to make the collec-

Police news

General Occurrences

During the period April 16 to 22, personnel at Minden Detachment investigated the following occurrences: five motor vehicle accidents which resulted in one minor injury, and 47 general occurrences, including 12 break and enters.

Cottage Break-ins

There were 12 reported cases of cottage break-ins this past weekend. All occurred sometime since the March school break. They were reported from several different areas throughout the County. There were five break-ins at Eagle Lake and entry was gained in each case by either breaking a window or opening an unlocked window. Four break-ins occurred at Glamour Lake. Others were at Redstone, Percy and Maple Lakes. Estimated value of property stolen is $3,000.

Accident

On April 17 at 6:30 p.m. on Hwy. 121 in Dysart Twp., John Stewart, age 76, of Dysart Twp., was operating his 1984 AMC car westbound around a curve when he drove onto the right shoulder. The steering was overcorrected and the car crossed the highway, entered the opposite ditch and rolled over, sustaining $9,000 damage. Stewart received minor injuries. A charge of careless driving was laid.

Haliburton Damage

Twelve new cars belonging to Curry Motors were damaged sometime overnight on April 20/21. The vehicles, parked beside the bank on Highland St. in Haliburton village, were damaged when someone ran across their hoods. The incident is currently under investigation. No damage estimate has been made at this time.

Drinking - Driving

The stepped up enforcement of drinking and driving laws by the O.P.P. will continue through the summer months. It is wrongly assumed by the public that drinking drivers are most prevalent during the Christmas and New Years period. It is a fact that most drinking related accidents involving injury and death occur during the summer months. So far this month Minden officers have charged two persons with driving while impaired and have issued 12 hour licence suspensions to two others.

Cardiff council

A special meeting of the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Cardiff was held March 4 for the purpose of meeting with representatives from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications and the County of Haliburton to discuss the status of McGillivray Road (County Road No. 9) and the Dyno Road (municipal portion and Secondary Hwy. No. 648).

All members of council were present. Staff in attendance were Gayle P. Bates, AMCT, Clerk-Treasurer. Also present were Charles Reinhardt and Magda Majesky; Ministry of Transportation and Communications; Bill Howe and Keith Tallman; County Roads Committee and Bill Obee, County Road Engineer.

The County of Haliburton proposes that the municipality assume McGillivray Road (County Rd. No. 9) for maintenance and construction purposes. The County would assume the Dyno Road from the junction of Highway No. 28 to the junction of Highway No. 121 (municipal portion and Secondary Hwy. No. 648).

The municipality proposes to assume McGillivray Road (County Road No. 9) and the Dyno Road, as described previously, from Highway No. 28 to Highway No. 121. The municipality's position is that from a cost-benefit point of view, this would be more feasible than the County's proposal.

The Ministry's position is as follows: "In assumptions, Please turn to Page 6

Dysart et al council

A special meeting of Dysart Municipal Council was held in the Council Chambers, on Monday, March 19, 1984.

Council reviewed the proposed Road Program for 1984 (Construction Section) as drawn up by the Road Committee and the Road Superintendent and adopted it as presented.

Council reviewed the proposed Union requests for 1984 and met with representatives of the Union at 7:30 p.m. to begin negotiations for the 1984 Contract. Present from the Union were: Leon Jones, Jody Ainsworth, Lloyd Curry, Rodney Sproats and Harold Wrightman, CUPE Representative.

Council held a regular meeting on Monday, April 9. General Accounts totalling $448,300.91, Road Accounts totalling $60,953.83, and Social Services totalling $15,604.35, were approved for payment.

Paul Wilson, Professional Engineer, of the firm of Bishop and Wilson, will be retained to prepare preliminary drawings and estimates for Bank Stabilization, curb and gutter and repaving of York Street prior to a final meeting with those owners involved, council decided.

A "Little Tipster" 1/2 ton slide in dump box will be purchased from Del Equipment for $1,500 with delivery in three weeks from order date. Costs are to be charged to Road Account.

Council agreed to contribute $500 to the Horticultural Society. In return the society will supply, plant and maintain flowers in Head Lake Park and the Rotary Beach area.

Council supported the initiative of the County of Haliburton to form a County Historical Society and a copy of its resolution will be forwarded to Reeve Davis of Stanhope Township.

Permission was granted to the Haliburton Rotary Club to utilize Municipal Lands in connection with their 40th annual Summer Carnival.

The HAVE (Help a Village Effort) Committee was granted permission to start and finish their Marathon "Walk for Wells" from Rotary Beach, Haliburton, Saturday, June 2, 1984.

By-law 84-10, a by-law to authorize the sale and conveyance of part of Lot 5, Concession A, Township of Minden, was passed.

Flood report released

Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope has tabled an independent committee's report that recommends wide-ranging changes to floodplain management in Ontario.

Pope told the legislature that the six-member committee - headed by James Taylor, MPP for Prince Edward-Lennox - "has made an important contribution to the process of developing an integrated floodplain management policy for Ontario."

He said his ministry would be moving toward the implementation of one of the report's major recommendations - a minimum standard for flood protection based on a flood level that has a probability of occurrence of

Merchants to consider 'grid'

Scheme intended to cut down on number of bad cheques

Just about everyone who has ever operated a business has found themselves on the receiving end of 'bad' cheques from time to time. It is an inevitable, if annoying risk of dealing with the public. Now, however, local merchants are about to consider a plan designed to cut down on the likelihood that they will receive non sufficient funds cheques.

On Wednesday evening, main street merchants will get together to discuss the possibility of forming a 'grid system'. Under this scheme, a merchant who receives a bad cheque from a customer would pass the information along to one other merchant, who would in turn call another merchant designated on the grid. The process would be repeated until all participating area businesses had been notified that a particular individual had written an NSF cheque.

Local banks are expected to be asked to assist in the scheme by providing merchants with prompt notification of NSF cheques.

Most local merchants pass NSF cheques on to local OPP officers for investigation, since the issuing of 'bad' cheques is fraudulent. But the grid system could prevent similar cheques from being issued to other area merchants.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. Wednesday night at the Dysart et al community centre.

Local group plans walkathon to help India

Haliburton County's Help a Village Effort committee is making final plans for a 33 kilometre walkathon to raise funds for villagers in India. Proceeds from the walk will be used to drill wells in drought plagued areas of one of the poorest, most crowded nations on earth.

The walk is scheduled to take place on Saturday, June 2. It will begin and end at Rotary beach in Haliburton, following a triangular route down County Road 1 to Lochlin, along Church Road to Ingoldsby, then back along South Kashagawigamog Lake Road to the village.

Funds will be raised through pledge sheets, which are available at Radio Shack and the Echo in Haliburton, and at Bowes and Cocks and The Times in Minden.

Anyone interested in taking part in the walk is urged to begin preparing for the day by picking up pledge sheets and seeking sponsorship.

Volunteers also are needed to man check points at various places along the 33 kilometre route.

More information on the walk can be obtained by calling 286-1647 or 286-2897.

Final concert in arts series will feature London Sinfonia at Haliburton high

The final concert in the Arts in Haliburton series is set for next Tuesday, and it should prove to be the best one yet. Featured will be the London Sinfonia, from London, Ontario, the professional core of that city's acclaimed symphony orchestra. The ensemble will treat the audience to a wide ranging repertoire of orchestral music, from the sublime elegance of Mozart to the lively melodies of Broadway.

Tuesday night's concert will be the third and last one of a series that began with Felix Pozak, and continued with a very entertaining show by the Peterborough based group, Tanglefoot, whose blending of historical photographs and readings with early Canadian music drew a large and appreciative audience.

Initial concerns that the Arts in Haliburton series would have to be abandoned for lack of support, appear to have faded, but organizers are still counting on a good turnout for next Tuesday's concert to ensure that the series can continue next year.

People wishing to attend the concert and who do not have series tickets can purchase individual admission in advance or at the door. Cost is $10. The concert gets underway at 8 p.m. at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Winnie Schofield, centre, was kept busy last Saturday looking after the Monmouth Library used book table at the Wilberforce Maple Syrup Festival.

Hundreds of people came to the Lloyd Watson centre to enjoy pancakes, sausages and maple syrup and a chance to browse through a flea market.

Design for bridge is sought

County Engineer Bill Obee said Tuesday that proposals were completed early Tuesday morning, and that he would contact members of the roads committee for a decision.

Once the bridge has been designed, tender documents will be prepared. Work on the new bridge is expected to be carried out as early as this fall.

Cost of the structure will not be known until construction tenders have been received, but funds included in this year's county roads budget are expected to meet the county's portion of construction costs, the engineer said.

The new bridge will be a two lane structure, but existing approach angles and water clearances will be maintained.

Thankful Tankful returns on Saturday

The Thankful Tankful campaign returns to Haliburton this Saturday, giving area motorists an opportunity to help handicapped children by buying gasoline. Under the program, jointly supported by Imperial Oil and local Esso retailers, a portion of the money consumers spend to buy gasoline at Esso dealerships this Saturday will be turned back to the "Easter" Seal Society. The oil company will donate one cent to the provincial branch of the Society for every litre of gasoline sold on Saturday. That contribution will be matched by individual retailers, with the money going directly to assist handicapped children in the surrounding area. In all, nine cents will be earmarked for the Society from the value of every gallon sold on April 28.

In the past three years, a total of $170,000 has been raised by the Thankful Tankful scheme. This year the aim is to top $75,000 in contributions.

In Haliburton, Curry Motors Ltd. will be participating in the Thankful Tankful program.

County Historical Society formed, executive elected tion more accessible to the general public.

The society is also expected to seek support from Haliburton

County council, which has indicated that it agrees with the concept of a county wide historical society. The group also will seek affiliation with the Ontario Historical Society, which automatically would give it legal status as a not-for-profit group.

Report recommends major changes in flood plain policy once every 100 years.

However, the Minister stressed that most municipalities with a watershed must agree before the minimum standard is changed, and that the government would not support lowering flood protection in any area of the province where the past history of flooding indicates that higher criteria would be more appropriate.

The Taylor committee, appointed by the Minister last fall, held 15 public meetings and received some 300 written submissions. The report, which contains 13 recommendations, will be sent to all interested groups in the province with a request for written comment within 90 days. It is also available for public review at district and regional offices of the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Pope said that once he has examined all the comments, he will draft a new provincial floodplain management policy, to be issued under the Planning Act.

In the same statement, Pope also told the house that he will ask Ontario's conservation authorities to improve public involvement in their meetings and to concentrate less power in executive committees, and more in the authority as a whole.

Hundreds of Legionnaires from District F will arrive in Haliburton Friday for a weekend convention, hosted by Branch 129. Highlight of the weekend will be a parade on Sunday featuring the Haliburton Legion Pipe Band, shown here on parade last year, along with other Legion groups from across central Ontario.

A start

The formation of a Haliburton County Historical Society is good news. It represents an important step in the evolution of a stonger, wiser, more dynamic community. And it demonstrates that good ideas, well presented, are quickly supported by citizens from many areas of Haliburton County.

First task of the local society will be to seek affiliation with the Ontario Historical Society. Once that is done, the local group will have official not-for-profit status in the eyes of various governments, and can seek financial assistance for any projects it might want to carry out.

Since Stanhope reeve Harry Davis began talking about the need for a locally based historical society several months ago, it has been clear that its first, and perhaps most challenging project, should be to find ways to make the Kanawa Canoe Museum a better facility, and to create better public access to it. And it has been apparent, as well, that the task would be a daunting one. Changes are unlikely to come swiftly or dramatically. Instead, they will come slowly, after much planning and an equal measure of persistence.

It is hoped that members of the board of the new society will be able to sustain their enthusiasm and commitment for the time it will take to see real progress. The project is an important one, which can only be carried out if the public gets behind the society and offers it the support it deserves.

Welcome

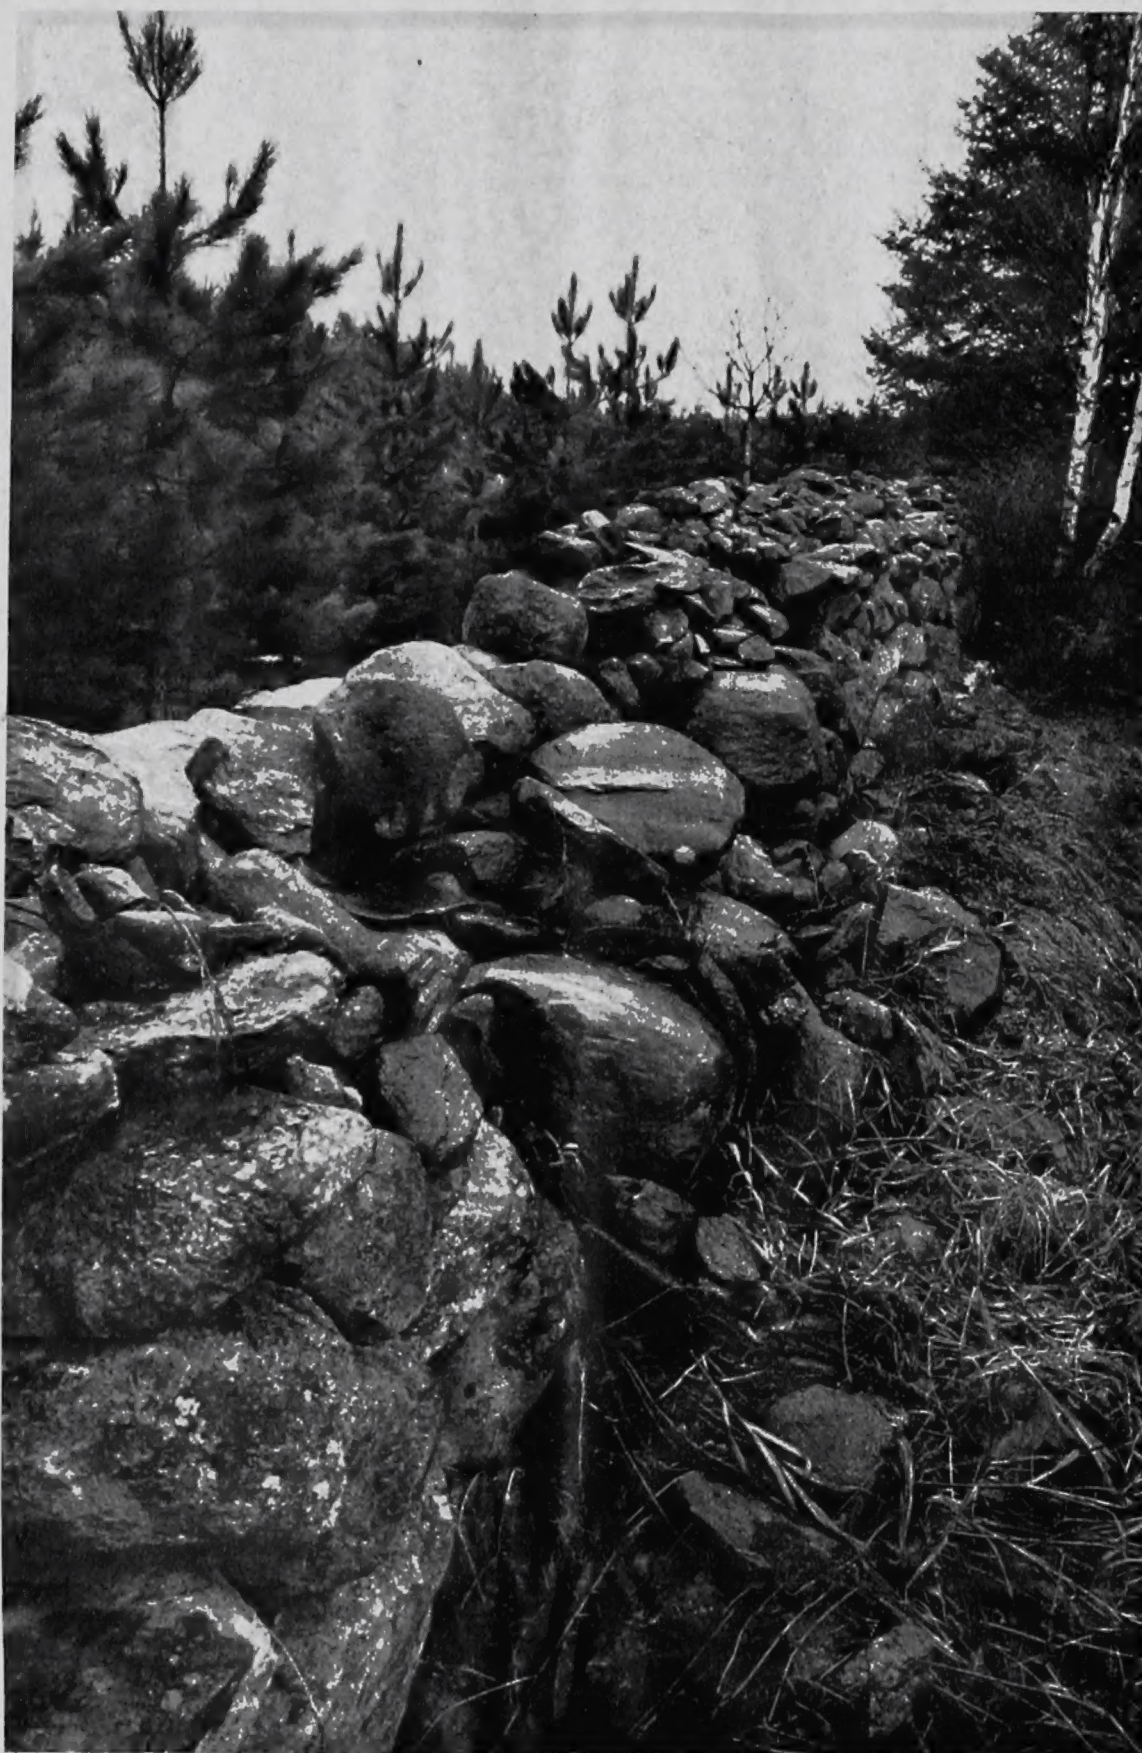

Haliburton Village will be a particularly busy place this weekend, as more than 300 members of Royal Canadian Legion branches and their families converge at Branch 129 for the District F convention. For some of those attending the weekend's activities, Haliburton will be a familiar place, but for the majority, a visit to the Highlands will be a new experience. And so a hearty welcome to all. We hope that they enjoy their stay, and that the hard work of Branch 129 members is rewarded with a successful convention.

Water

Haliburton County's Help a Village Effort Committee is hoping that local citizens will get behind a scheme to raise money for wells in drought plagued villages in northern India. The committee has planned a 33 kilometre walkathon for June 2, and it is urging area people either to walk the distance, or to sponsor participants.

While the idea of contributing money for well drilling operations in a faraway country may never have occurred to most people, there is no doubt that the project is an important one. Canadians who take clean water for granted would be appalled if they travelled in Third World countries and saw the distressing conditions under which most people live. Many people walk miles to fill battered plastic containers with muddy water that may be contaminated with human and animal waste. They wait for hours in lineups to share the meagre production of creaking hand pumps. For millions of people in the world's poorest nations water is a precious commodity, and obtaining it is literally a matter of life and death.

It is easy to shrug off these realities when we do not face them. It is harder to commit one's time and energy to making life a little better for even a few of the teeming millions in Third World nations who make up the majority of our fellow men. Those people who truly want to show compassion, and who genuinely want to do good works, could find few causes more worthy of support than the walk for wells project.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

While visiting the Township of Stanhope in Haliburton County I read the Toronto Star article on the condition of the people on welfare in the Township of Stanhope. The reporter and gentlemen should return to the Highlands of Haliburton where they picked up their information, then visit the families on welfare and see how the families are taken care of and the cleanliness of their homes. If a family needs special medical attention the transportation, lodging and food is supplied. Men or women get nothing free. If and when there is work, they work side by side, digging ditches and working on roads, doing underbrushing with the township, working with them and proud to do it.

The reporter should visit the parks in Toronto, especially the one on Gerard and Parliament Street, on welfare day. He'd see people drunk and lying on the streets, giving the police a full time job. During the first two days everyone is very rich and happy and drunk. After that things go back to normal and most of them go to the churches for free handouts. I should know; I am a licenced lodging house operator and deal mostly with welfare people.

What we need in the Highlands is industry. There would be no welfare. We have plenty of industry in Toronto but lots of welfare, passed down from generation to generation. They have lost all interest in working. "Welfare condition is too good."

To The Editor:

I am keenly aware of the parking problem in downtown Haliburton; as a consumer I have often had to make several circuits of the town looking for a place to pull in and do some shopping - especially during those busy summer months.

I am also aware that the downtown merchants and their employees create a part of this problem by parking their cars and leaving them all day while they are at work - but it seems to me that these employees are the ones being most heavily penalized by the new regulations. These employees have to be there to serve the public. And where are they supposed to park their cars while they serve the public? These employees at the same time also become consumers and spend their money in downtown Haliburton.

I trust the council is considering making some sort of adjustment of behalf of these people, perhaps a reserved area somewhere for downtown employees, or a bumper sticker giving them the privilege of parking two hours for the price of one. Surely some arrangement can be made for these long suffering servants so that they won't have to spend a large portion of their wages on parking meters and fines. Think about it, please.

Editor's Note: The following is a copy of a letter from the chairman of TV Ontario to Bruce and Marion Henry of Haliburton. It will be of interest to anyone in the community who does not use or have access to the local cable television system, but who would like to view the stimulating and informative programming offered by the educational network. As the letter makes clear, it could be a long time before most residents of the county have access to the network's offerings.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Henry:

Thank you for your recent letter asking for extension of the TVOntario broadcast network to the Haliburton region. We are, of course, aware that your area is currently beyond the reach of our transmitters.

In September, 1984, we plan to open new transmitters in Huntsville and Penetang. Although Haliburton lies outside the coverage contour of the Huntsville transmitter, depending on topography, it may be possible for you to pick up this signal with an outdoor antenna, especially one on high ground. TVOntario is also available on cable in Haliburton, although I know this is a more costly, and sometimes unavailable, alternative.

A comprehensive plan to serve all the population of Ontario has been submitted to the Honourable Susan Fish, Minister of Citizenship and Culture, who acts as our "lead minister" in our dealings with the provincial government. All capital funding for extension of service comes from the provincial government and I know that the Minister is doing her utmost to obtain funds for this project.

Just recently Emmett Cardinal Carter, Archbishop of Toronto, approved of the model of the altar to be used on September 15 for the Pope's Mass at Downsview Airport. With him at the unveiling was former Haliburton resident J. Gordon Smeaton. Architect J. Gordon Smeaton, who designed the model, unveiled his work and formally handed it over to Emmett Cardinal Carter. "I congratulate you on the design," Carter told Smeaton. "It's terrific". He said because of the size of the area where the mass will be held the Pope will look very small. This means that all movements on top of the altar must be slow and dignified to enable people at great distances to see what is going on. A story in the Toronto Star went on to say that a scale model of the altar, which will cover half a hectare (1 acre) of the tarmac at Downsview Airport and will rise 7.3 metres (24 feet), was unveiled at the Archdiocese of Toronto Centre on Church Street. It will be used for the Papal Mass at Downsview on September 15 before a crowd estimated at up to 500,000. Cost of the altar, which looks like a stepped pyramid with the top shaved off, is about $300,000.

A Royal welcome goes out to all Legionnaires, their wives and friends who will be coming to Haliburton this weekend to attend the Royal Canadian Legion District "F" Convention. This will be a big event and Haliburton should feel really proud to have had the honour of playing host to this convention. We sincerely hope that you will enjoy your stay in the community.

Harold and Pat Kennedy of Kennedy Surplus in Haliburton told me on Saturday that something happened to them last week that has renewed their faith in human nature. When they opened their store on Maple Avenue on Monday morning, April 16, they noticed two sheets of paper attached to their door. On the outside it said one word, "IMPORTANT" and inside was the following letter:

Dear Sir,

I took something from you when I had no money. It was eight dollar. Now I paid - I sorry. The sum of $10 was enclosed inside another sheet of paper. Yes, you might think differently but this proves that there are still honest people left in the world today.

Friends of Gary McKnight will be pleased to learn that he is feeling much better and resting at Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto following a heart attack he suffered at Haliburton last week. We join his many friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

Imperial Oil Limited and over 450 independent Esso retailers are all pumped up and ready to go to make the 1984 Thankful Tankful Day the best one yet. This coming Saturday, April 28, all car, truck and tractor owners are urged to fill their gas tanks at any participating Esso dealer to help raise funds for Easter Seals. For every litre of gas sold during this day retailers will donate 1 cent (4.5 cents per gallon) to assist local needs of physically disabled children. Imperial Oil will then match their contributions with a donation towards provincial services. Curry Motors Limited are the Imperial Oil dealer in Haliburton. In the three years since Thankful Tankful Day was initiated, Esso dealers and Imperial Oil have raised over $170,000 on behalf of the Easter Seal Society and this year they have their sights set on topping $75,000.

The local committee of the Haliburton Red Cross Campaign are now tying up the loose ends after a very successful March campaign. We haven't seen the final figures but we are hoping that the net result will mean that the objective has been reached.

Last year Cox's Apparel on the main street in Minden went all out and put on a beautiful new store front. At the present time workers are tying up the loose ends and finishing off extensive work to the interior of the store. This store will look very smart both inside and out when completed.

Other changes have been made in Minden, with Vasey Insurance Broker Limited moving into the old corner store building leaving the business on the corner strictly real estate for the offices of Gary F. Vasey Real Estate.

Those ever popular Trampchamps, who appeared last year at the Canadian National Exhibition, will be appearing at the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School this Thursday evening starting at 7:15 p.m. Adults and High School students $2, Elementary School students and pre-schoolers are all free. I have seen this group perform at the C.N.E. and they are really terrific.

Get well wishes go out to all those who are sick this week and especially to all those who have in bed with the cold and flu bug that has been going around. I am glad to report that Giles Connelly, the local Imperial Oil Agent, is resting at home now after spending some time at the Red Cross Hospital in Haliburton with pneumonia. Bill Picard and Rick Vaughan, among others, spent considerable time in bed trying to get rid of this cold and flu which has been making its rounds.

The Royal Canadian Legion District F Convention will be held at Branch 129 in Haliburton village on April 27 - 29. Fifty-four branches are expected to attend the convention. Plan to see the parade at 11:30 a.m. on Sunday, and please join us in extending a warm welcome to the members and their families. Let's make their visit to the Highlands a memorable one.

On May 1, Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts is again sponsoring London Sinfonia. This is a 26 member symphony which started as London Promenade Orchestra in 1937. Most recently they appeared on national television with finalists of the Canadian Music Competition. They will be presenting a varied and entertaining programme from Mozart to Broadway. Tickets are $10. Enquire at 457-2330.

The Agnes Jamieson Gallery will feature art by the children of Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden, from May 3 - 28.

Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton will be featuring Puppets and Playthings from May 4 - 28. These wonderful puppets are the creations of Noreen Young, puppeteer and they will please both you and your small companions.

Haliburton Legion Auxiliary will be holding a flea market from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on May 5.

Boy Scouts will be involved in tree planting on April 28, weather permitting. The Ministry will supply 2000 trees to the boy scouts and each child will collect pledges for the number of trees he plants. Let's support the boys in their efforts to beautify the environment.

You're important to me - is the theme of the training seminars to be held by your Chamber of Commerce. Don't forget the first session is to be held on May 2 at 7:30 p.m. at the Outreach Centre in Haliburton provided we have sufficient enrollment. Please call the Chamber at 286-1760 and leave your name.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Lloyd Watson Centre in Wilberforce on Thursday, April 26 at 7:30 p.m. All members are welcome to attend.

Tuesday, May 1, 1984 there will be a free lecture, "Ontario Wildflowers" by the Royal Botanical Gardens of Hamilton at 7:30 at the Municipal Building in Minden.

Wednesday, April 25, 1984 will be Haliburton's annual "Festival of Fun" featuring the talents of many local artists who donate their time in aid of the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities. Some of the performers include the Legion Pipe Band, Cats Meow, Nancy Robichaud, John Miller, the Jazz Band, the Dixie Band and the Sour Notes. The show starts at 7:15 at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Earlier this year, I wrote an article on the service, or lack of it, provided by Canada Post. I, and many other Canadians, are quite concerned, as I stated, with the Post Office's efforts to compete with the private sector in order to reduce their deficit.

On April 16, Dan McKenzie, M.P., our Party's Post Office Spokesman, again brought this to the attention of the House of Commons. He said, "Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the Minister responsible for Canada Post I would like to direct my question to the Minister of Finance. I am sure the Minister is aware of the business community's opposition to Canada Post's expansion into the Consumer Distributing plan. They feel that this would be a direct intervention into the private sector and that businesses are having enough difficulty in Canada today. Does the Minister, or the Government, have any plans to ask Mr. Warren to drop this Consumer Distributing plan in light of all the opposition from Hon. members on all sides of the House?"

"Mr. Speaker, perhaps the Minister of Finance would also bring to the attention of the Minister that Mr. Warren has informed the Canadian Federation of Independent Business that he will not release the results of the trial run he is conducting right now on Consumers Distributing. I believe the results of this trial run should be made available to all Hon. Members of the House, as well as to any business groups which wish to see how the trial run went. Will the Minister give a commitment that he will approach Mr. Warren to make this trial run public?"

As before, the Government refused to make any specific effort to stop this ridiculous scheme.

On the same day, I received a call from a constituent who told me that in order to get a letter from the mail he had to pay 10 cents postage due. The reason given was that the sender had not put his postal code in the window of the envelope. I checked with the main Post Office and was told that since last April they could charge a double deficiency charge for all non-standard mail sent out by any commercial or governmental source. Apparently, all of a sudden they have chosen to enforce this for envelopes without postal codes.

Queen's Park Report

I am sure that a change in format for my weekly report is often appreciated and quite often I hear good comment from my constituents in this regard.

Citizens of Haliburton especially will be interested in a story which arrived on my desk and is contained in a magazine called "The Great Lakes Fisherman". It is reprinted from the Nipigon Gazette and is the story of Tim Carroll, formerly of Haliburton.

"In July of last year, Tim Carroll, of Orient Bay on Lake Nipigon, launched a new 52 foot steel hulled vessel. The boat will be used for hunting and fishing tours and might be of little interest to the commercial fishing industry except for the background to that story.

"Tim Carroll came to Lake Nipigon as an employee of the MNR and he and his wife, Brenda, quickly fell in love with the area. Through a lot of hard work, Tim Carroll was able to purchase a large cruiser, the 'Last Chance' and to get into the tourist business.

"In October, 1981, Lake Nipigon was hit with a nasty fall storm. Three days of high winds and blowing snow turned the lake into a frenzied mass of white caps.

"Aboard the Last Chance in the middle of that raging storm were Tim Carroll and 'Kneebone' Lee Austin. Soon after the storm began, news reports on the radio announced the cruiser lost on Lake Nipigon and two men still unaccounted for.

"The Last Chance was not lost in the normal sense. She was spotted by an MNR plane at Devil's Gap in the process of breaking up on the rocks.

"There were few boats, if any, on Lake Nipigon capable of making a rescue attempt. In spite of the bad conditions, Captain Greenslade, of the Commercial fishing boat Nipigon Queen attempted the impossible. With a voluntary crew aboard that included OPP officer Tim Harper of the Beardmore detachment, Captain Greenslade nosed the tug into the battering waves. The seas were so high that he was forced to return to port. Twice more the captain and crew of the Nipigon Queen made a valiant attempt to reach Devil's Gap, but were forced to return to port.

"Miraculously, Tim and Lee were able to reach shore and walk 14 miles to the safety of a hunting lodge.

"The Last Chance was a complete loss and Tim had to begin the search for another boat.

"Lake Nipigon has a well earned reputation for being a nasty body of water, especially in a fall storm. It also has its brave men who are not afraid to grapple with the elements when a fellow human is in distress."

You will also find it of interest to know that Chris Carroll, a brother of Tim, is making a name for himself at Queen's Park as the highly respected Executive Assistant to the Honourable Robert Eaton, Minister Without Portfolio and Chief Government Whip.

To The Editor:

On Wednesday evening, April 25, 1984, at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, the Festival of Fun will be held for the eighth year in our County. Each year many residents of Haliburton County have performed in and attended the festival in large numbers in aid of our children with learning disabilities.

On June 2, any person who can walk, run, or be pushed will have a chance to join with cottagers and visitors to this area in another noble effort -- to provide drilled wells to many villagers in India. Presently they do not have an adequate supply of water for drinking and irrigation purposes. The Help a Village Effort (HAVE) Committee extends an invitation to one and all to take part in its first big County WALK -- however, if you cannot walk, you could sponsor a walker, help man a check point, etc. Call the number below to find out how YOU can help. Sponsorship forms are now available at: Radio Shack and The Echo in Haliburton; Bowes and Cocks office and The Times in Minden.

As we have a Fun Night to help children with learning difficulties, let us also have a Fun Day to enable some desperately needy villagers of India to have pure drinking water in adequate supply.

Prepare NOW to walk a part or all of the 33 Km. (20 miles) from Haliburton to Lochlin to Ingoldsbay and back to Haliburton -- Walk For Wells on Saturday, June 2, 1984.

Have you been to the Rails' End Gallery this month? There are only a few more days to view two separate showings at the Gallery.

Paintings and Prints by Sheila Maki continues through Saturday, April 28. On that day, you can meet the artist at 2:00 p.m. Sheila will give a talk about her work, including technique, inspirations, and philosophy of art. It's an excellent opportunity to learn something from someone who works in abstracts. So many of us say we don't understand abstract painting. Now is your chance to listen to their ideas and reasons, as well as discussing your own feelings. Perhaps even to become a bit more enlightened on the art form.

April 28 is also the last day to see Seven Haliburton County Artists. We have some great artists. Don't miss it.

This coming month of Guild activities includes a Quilt Show trip to Lakefield on May 19. The group will be travelling in cars, departing at 10:00 a.m. and returning no later than 5:00 p.m. There is a $2 entry fee. Call the Gallery to ensure a spot.

On May 25, there will be a Guild Fashion Show featuring fashions from Patricia's Boutique and Gallery of Fenelon Falls. Tickets are available from the Gallery at $6, while they last.

There will be a Quilting group meeting each Tuesday, at the Haliburton Home Support office from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

A First Step to Save Wetlands

On the afternoon of April 12, Alan Pope, Ontario's Natural Resources Minister, announced a set of "Guidelines for Wetlands Management in Ontario" to the legislature. In doing so, he closed a long prologue to what should eventually be a much longer history of wetlands protection in this province.

The Ministry had promised action of this kind for more than two years in response to the Government's own recommendations, the concerted efforts of naturalists and the relentless pace of wetland destruction. So it was a pleasant surprise when he informed conservationists on March 27 by giving his unequivocal assurance that by the following Thursday he would announce a government wetlands policy.

In fact he delivered Guidelines, not a policy. But any criticism that's due should be laid at the door of Claude Bennett, the Provincial Housing Minister, whose ministry has opposed stronger action for some time.

Well, what do the guidelines say? Their stated purpose is "to ensure that wetlands are managed in keeping with both present and long-term needs of the people of Ontario." Pope explained: "We want to ensure that optimum economic and social benefits are obtained from the land with minimal disturbance to wetlands of provincial significance."

How will this work? All wetlands in southern Ontario, be they swamps, marshes, bogs, or fens, are to be evaluated and ranked according to a provincial evaluation system. The two top-scoring classes will be deemed of provincial significance.

transfers, etc. of roads from one jurisdiction to the other, the function of the Ministry is to investigate the number of alternatives on all three levels of road jurisdictions and promote meaningful dialogue between the parties involved, the outcome to the best and most cost effective alternative. At the above meeting Magda Majesky suggested that there is an additional alternative to the County and Township proposals, that if all County roads are being assumed by the Township no contribution to the County roads system will be required. This, of course, would be between the County and the Township to make the most cost effective decision affecting both parties. This suggestion and proposal of this alternative was a response to the question of one of the councillors as to whether they would have to contribute to the County Roads system even if they assume both roads."

No decisions were made as a result of discussions, the matter will be studied further by all parties.

A regular meeting of the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Cardiff was held April 6.

All members of council were present. Staff in attendance were: Thomas Elliott, road superintendent; Ronald Mumford, chief building official and by-law enforcement officer; and Gayle P. Bates, AMCT, clerk-treasurer.

Also in attendance were W.H. Parnell, Acting Assessment Commissioner; Stewart MacLurea, Assessment Supervisor, Regional Assessment Office, Ministry of Revenue; Marcello Zorzi, Carson E. Bamford; Jacob Pothaar; Orval Cooney and Felix Brown of Greer Galloway and Assoc. Ltd., Bancroft Office.

The Township of Cardiff council said it wished to nominate Mrs. Goldie Watson for the Ontario Medal for Good Citizenship and acknowledged the submission of councillor Irwin as part of the minutes of this meeting.

Submission of councillor Irwin, dated April 5, 1984: "It is with pride and honour that I request Cardiff Council members to accept Mrs. Goldie Watson as our outstanding citizen and nominate this gracious lady to be awarded with the Ontario Medal for Good Citizenship.

This medal was proclaimed by Premier W.G. Davis on June 14, 1973. In presenting the nomination, I have outlined this wonderful lady's 42 years of dedicated Public Service: 1942-48, Secretary Treasurer for Cardiff Township School Area Board; 1948-50, Cardiff Township Clerk; 1950-56, Assessor for Cardiff Township; 1957-58, Assessor Township Airie (Whitney); 1958-67, Secretary Treasurer for Cardiff Township School Area; 1964-68, Cardiff Township's Representative on North Hastings High School Board; 1968-76, Trustee, Haliburton County Board of Education. It was during her tenure on the Haliburton Board that Mrs. Watson, better known to all in Cardiff Township as "Goldie", approached council regarding the possibilities for purchasing Highland Grove School for the purpose of using it for a much needed Recreation Centre. This request was denied, but undaunted and not to be denied, she pursued the matter and investigated the possibility of a Library. Armed with a different approach, she consulted with council outlining her thoughts and ideals. She was victorious and the building was purchased. In March 1970 a Library Committee was formed by Mrs. Watson. The Haliburton Library Board donated $50 and henceforth the incentive was born. Steered by Mrs. Watson the newly formed committee organized a Walk-a-Thon, sold chocolate bars, etc. to raise money. Subsequently, on April 11, 1970 the official opening of the Library as we know it, was held. From then, until this present time, Goldie Watson has held the position of Treasurer of the Highland Grove Library Committee. The year 1971 brought forth the Recreation Committee and in this capacity, she has been active from the outset to date.

Limiting kill seen as way to save black duck

By SCOTT JONES,
Environmental Biologist Ministry of Natural Resources

Help may be coming for the declining black duck population. The daily bag limit for black ducks may be significantly reduced in 1984. It has been suggested that two black ducks per day should be permitted in the "Hudson Bay" and "Northern" waterfowl districts and one black duck per day in the rest of Ontario. This change could reduce the annual kill by 30 percent.

Aerial counts, designed to reflect long-term population trends and conducted every January over major concentrations of wintering black ducks in coastal areas, show rather disheartening results over the last 30 years. In 1955, the winter survey produced a count of over 700,000 black ducks. By the early 1960's the count had dropped below 450,000. In 1983, the count was down to 294,000 birds. These counts are believed to represent about 20% of the black duck population. The yearly surveys since the mid-1960's show a decline in the black duck population at a rate of 1.5 percent per year.

Before 1969, the black duck ranked first in the hunting kill of the Atlantic Flyway. Since then, the mallard and wood duck have moved ahead in rank. In Ontario, the killing of black ducks has declined by more than 25 percent since 1968, from 119,000 to only 88,000 in 1982. In the United States, the 1980 kill was 369,000 birds which dropped to 278,000 in 1981.

Reasons for the decline of black ducks are unclear, although several factors may be involved. First, the mallard, a close relative of the black duck, has expanded into the range of the black duck where previously the eastern forests provided a barrier. This expansion of the mallards is probably because of changes in land use as the forests have been removed or opened up, creating mallard habitat in areas formerly containing only black duck habitat. Also, release of game farm mallards within the range of the black duck has encouraged the establishment of mallard breeding populations. Where these two species now occur together, about ten percent or more of the population consists of crossbreeds. It is feared by some that unless the black duck can find isolation from the mallard, the black duck could eventually be absorbed into the mallard population.

Secondly, with major land use changes over the last 30 years, river mouth areas along the coast and inland wetlands have been lost to development or degraded by population. The quantity and quality of black duck habitat have been reduced although no cause-and-effect relationships with black ducks have been established.

Thirdly, the effect of hunting on the black duck population has to be considered. From 1976 to 1980, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, in co-operation with state agencies, conducted an intensive banding programme to study the possible effects of killing on annual survival of black ducks. Results of this study do not show conclusively that killing is limiting the black duck populations. However, they do suggest that immature ducks from some nesting areas are being subjected to high killing rates which could be contributing to the black duck population decline.

Since 1967, American hunters in the Atlantic Flyway have not been permitted more than two black ducks per day, and in many states, the bag limit is one per day. However, in spite of these restrictions, the trend in black duck populations has continued to decline, and will probably continue to do so unless further steps are taken to conserve them.

Hunting is the only mortality factor that can be readily controlled in the short term. Manipulation of bag limits for black ducks appears to be the best method for attaining a measurable and effective reduction in the kill. In 1983,

The Dixie Lee soccer team opened the soccer season with three games at an indoor tournament in Gravenhurst Saturday, April 21. The first game was a scoreless draw against the Alberta Pilots. They are from the Prairie Bible Institute of Three Hills, Alberta. Since their school closed for the summer in early April they have been touring Ontario in a yellow school bus playing soccer against high school league increases to nine teams. Fortunately Bracebridge is the closest town in the league for Haliburton.

Dixie Lee's third game was a 1-1 draw with Orillia City. Ivor Thompson scored the Dixie Lee goal on a corner kick that the referee ruled in after the goalie mishandled the ball. Haliburton went undefeated in the tournament, a great improvement over last year when the team lost all three games by wide

The Dixie Lee team will hold their first outdoor practice Sunday, April 29 at 2:00 p.m. at the high school field in Haliburton and perhaps Thursday, May 3 at 7:30 at the Archie Stouffer School field in Minden, especially if the first league game is Sunday, May 6.

The team wants to have players registered in any case by the first league game which might be as late as Sunday, May 13.

THE HALIBURTON COUNTY ECHO AND MINDEN RECORDER

Northern Lights

By VIRGINIA MUENZEL

Never name your chickens!

That's the first thing my neighbour and mentor tried to drum into my head. In other words, don't get too attached to the animal you may have to have for dinner some day.

Of course, on the whole, there's nothing cute and cuddly about a chicken after the first month. They lose their baby fluff, assume an angry glare, and peck you whenever they get the chance. Consequently, I've never had the urge to name one of the snarky creatures. Up until last year, that is.

Last spring, along with our usual quota of roosters and poulets, we acquired two one year old bantam hens that had been part of someone's school project. One was red, and one a sort of off-white. They were so much smaller than the other birds, I feared for their lives at first. But I needn't have. Within two days, it was established that the white banty was the supreme highest in the pecking order. She was the first out the door every day. No one challenged her right to be up front when the feed was distributed. Of course, I had to call her Lady Jane.

The red banty was so gentle and soft, yet loudly scolded the others when they came near her. She liked to sit in my hand, and be patted. She became Henny Penny. Chickens aren't known for their intellectual prowess. But these two seemed to almost have half a brain.

The gist of the story is, that when a chicken gets to be two years old, it rather outlives its usefulness. The eggs are not as nice. Indeed, they are said not to have as much nutritional value. So, it's time to send them to the soup pot, and get some young birds. That time has come and passed in March.

One coop is empty, waiting to be repaired and whitewashed and readied for the arrival of the new baby chicks. But Lady Jane and Henny Penny are still here. They still rule the roost in the coop with the year old hens. I couldn't think of eating them. How much meat could there be on a banty anyway? Hardly enough for my grandson, I think. You don't suppose they've outsmarted me?

Does anyone know how long a chicken lives?

Seniors can get fit

By ANNA M. NICHOL

A Golden Fitness program will take place at the Drop-In Centre. The program is open to all senior ladies and men of our county. It will run for eight weeks, every Thursday from 11:00 to 11:45 a.m. commencing May 10, 1984. Connie Love will be the instructor. On sunny days, the class will take place outside, behind the office.

After the class, everyone is invited to bring a bag lunch and enjoy it with company or have lunch at the Senior Citizen's Club in the Community Centre. So, please come along on May 10 at 11:00 and participate. Carole Finn from the Guild of Fine Arts will be at the Drop-In Centre working on a beautiful quilt. Should you want to assist her in this very rewarding project, please come to the Drop-In Centre any Tuesday at anytime.

Just a reminder: the Drop-In Centre is open from 10:00 to 4:00 from Monday to Friday. Bridge is played on Monday at 2:00 and euchre is played on Wednesday at 2:00. All senior citizens are invited to come and play cards.

The dates for the Ontario Senior Games are June 6, 7 and 8. The Senior Games require participants and volunteers. Please contact Anna Nichol at the Drop-In Centre or call 457-2171 for more information.

A steady stream of people lined up at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre in Wilberforce on Saturday for a meal of pancakes, sausages and maple syrup. The feast was part of the community's annual Maple Syrup Festival, which included a flea market and a chance to visit with friends.

Home Support

By MARIE WALLACE

We do live in a caring County - there's no question about it. Daily I'm impressed by the thoughtful people I meet in the Home Support office and in the Senior Drop-In Centre adjacent to our office. They tell me, in a very kindly and concerned way, about someone who is depressed or lonely, etc. The other day a Meals on Wheels volunteer came in after completing her deliveries to report that one recipient had suffered a black-out that morning. Our transportation convenor was able to arrange a ride for him to see his doctor that afternoon.

This week alone people volunteered in a wide variety of ways by: doing income tax returns, taking someone out to dinner and a card game, delivering used clothing, visiting a blind man, attending meetings, quilting, telephoning a shut-in daily. I could go on and on.

Yes, we are blessed with a large number of volunteers who make it possible for our elderly population to remain in their homes longer.

If you haven't made your reservation for our 4th Anniversary celebration this Friday, noon, at the PineStone Inn, you may do so by calling our office, 457-2941, by Thursday at the latest.

Foster parenting a second chance at love

By JACKIE SCOTT

Editor's Note: Jackie Scott, who lives in the Wilberforce area, has been a foster parent for many years.

One of the hardest jobs in the world is to be a good foster parent. But then, little else is as deeply satisfying.

There are more than a quarter of a million children living with foster parents today. And for the most part their backgrounds and needs differ drastically from those of children living in foster homes some fifty years ago. Most of the children then came from homes disrupted because of illness, death, or abandonment, but a great many children are in foster homes today because of the particular problems of contemporary society. One-third of a group of children placed in care for more than six months, were there because of family problems which included, alcoholism, drug addiction or arrest. For all these children no matter what the reason for their displacement or how long their stay away from home, the most important persons in their lives, the ones whose job it is to give them back a sense of security, are their foster parents. Children cannot stand still. The neglected toddler quickly becomes the troubled adolescent. Children need what they need when they need it. Providing it later is always too late.

It's easy enough to provide the child with a place of his own - a room or part of a room (maybe just a play corner) that is his alone. It's not hard to see that he is kept clean, that his clothes aren't ragged, that he is warm enough when he goes out to play, and that he eats the right things. The hard job is to reach the spot in his heart reserved for his real mother. Especially if the child has lived for some time with his natural mother, no matter how troubled that life was, his primary attachment will be to her, and not to his foster mother.

The needs of a foster child are often so great that it takes everything you've got just to live with them and see to their physical needs. Let alone to love them from the first as if they were your own. Fortunately, however the very task of taking care of a child tends to make him your own. And when he begins to trust you, or when he hesitates out of his prior hurt, all of one's maternal instincts are called to the fore.

All of these problems must be met by foster parents. Surely it is a tall order, yet thousands of adults are willing to take it on. This must happen if needy, innocent children are to be given a second start in life that will enable them to develop into well-functioning adults and caring parents, themselves.

Keeping a close eye on local weather

Accurate records back to 1880's

At 7 a.m. on a typical winter morning, when most people are blearily making breakfast and gazing glumly at the frigid world outside their windows, Jim Elstone is making notes on the night's weather. He is recording the night's minimum temperature and measuring any precipitation that may have fallen. The facts noted, he can get on with the rest of his day. At 7 p.m., he'll be back outside, reading the instruments of the CLIMAT weather station at his Maple Lake home to note the maximum daily temperature, precipitation, and fluctuations in barometric pressure.

Each day's statistics are entered in a record book. Once a week he phones in a summary to the Environment Canada office in Toronto, and once a month, a complete written report is submitted. That information is added to data gathered at hundreds of other small weather stations around the country, and published for the benefit of climatologists and other scientists both here and abroad.

Jim Elstone has been a volunteer weather observer since 1967, first at West Guilford, and now at his home on Maple Lake. Despite having to record data twice a day, 365 days a year, and getting no pay for the job, Elstone obviously enjoys his responsibilities. In fact, the weather is one of Jim Elstone's passions, and he likes nothing better than to talk about it.

His interest in the weather dates back to his high school days in Haliburton. He got involved in a meteorological club which set up a weather station at the school and made amateur forecasts, broadcasting them over the public address system. While still at HHSS Elstone was recruited by the Department of Transport and went on to meteorological training school in Ottawa. From there he continued his studies at an upper air training school where he learned about the higher regions of the atmosphere and how they effect weather. He also studied radar weather forecasting, and trained weather observers destined to work in remote northern stations. Weather data from these stations is fed to a central weather office every six hours, using a complex universal code that enables data to be shared among countries without translation. At any given moment tens of thousands of weather stations are recording data around the world. This is

Snowfall sets a record
Winter shows no signs of easing its assault
Record rainfall causes flooding throughout county
Record cold spell now over, warming trend to end month
February's unusual weather breaks records for the area

Although winter is officially less than a month old, local residents are enjoying (or bemoaning) some of the coldest temperatures and deepest snows on record. Cross country skiers, snowmobilers and downhill skiers are ecstatic with this year's conditions, but to those with long driveways to shovel or substantial distances to commute, the winter of 1983-84 has not been kind.

The cold weather began in November and has remained higher than average since then. Snowfall in November was 157 centimetres, a record for the month. In December, snowfall was 100 centimetres, also a record. In January, snowfall was 100 centimetres, also a record. In February, snowfall was 100 centimetres, also a record.

Despite record breaking cold temperatures in the first half of the month, a warming trend which pushed temperatures up on Monday afternoon is expected to result in near normal average temperatures for March.

As of Monday there had been 12 days this month with normal average temperatures and four days with temperatures higher than normal. On March 8, temperatures dipped to -35°C, the coldest in the record books.

Cold temperatures and snow on Tuesday brought a touch of winter back to the Highlands, in marked contrast to spring-like conditions which have prevailed throughout most of the month. So unseasonable were temperatures that February, 1984 will be entered in the record books as the warmest February in the area.

Records were washed out in numerous areas, including Haliburton Lake, Kenna Lake, Drag Lake and the Harcourt area. In the Monmouth Township area, the Harcourt Line was submerged in several places. In the hamlet of Essonville, the township area was only once high waters known.

Roads were washed out in numerous areas, including Haliburton Lake, Kenna Lake, Drag Lake and the Harcourt area. In the Monmouth Township area, the Harcourt Line was submerged in several places. In the hamlet of Essonville, the township area was only once high waters known.

Environment Canada officials are warning of the possibility of more snow, so that February had the least snowfall since 1966. The big storm that prompted the weather watch warning day, was not.

supplemented by information from ships at sea, which are required to report the weather at their location every three hours, and from geostationary satellites which give an ongoing picture of major weather systems swirling through the planet's atmosphere. Commercial pilots also file regular weather information en route.

Supplementing all this massive volume of data are the observations of volunteer 'atmospheric environmentalists' like Jim Elstone. His CLIMAT station is one of approximately 350 similar stations in Ontario, but it is a little more elaborate than most of them. Besides the usual Stephenson screen device containing thermometers hung a precise height above the ground, and a visual rain gauge, he also has a recording rain gauge and a barograph. The recording gauge is an expensive, highly accurate instrument that transfers rainfall data electrically to a measuring device inside his house. The machine gives detailed information on how much rain falls in a particular period of time. The barograph does the same thing for air pressure. The performance of the rain gauge is carefully monitored using the standard visual rain gauge for comparison. If an error appears, the instrument must be recalibrated by a technician. The entire station is inspected once a year by an Environment Canada official to ensure that the instruments are in good condition and that data is being taken consistently.

Elstone admits that his responsibilities at the CLIMAT station are "a bit of a tie", but he looks on it as a hobby, and it keeps the skills he has acquired over the years sharp. If he is ill, or has to be away when readings must be taken, his wife handles the task. If both of them are away for more than a day, someone else is asked to make the observations.

"It's not a life and death situation" Elstone says. But accuracy is all important. It is better to record no data for a particular day than to enter information that has been haphazardly taken, he says.

As well as keeping track of variations in temperature, humidity, precipitation and wind velocity, volunteer weather observers like Jim Elstone also function as severe weather watchers. High winds, hail, ominous clouds and other unusual weather conditions are reported immediately using a special severe weather telephone number. While it may be too late to warn people in the immediate area once severe conditions are sighted, calls from observers like Jim Elstone help pinpoint a storm's path and enable Environment Canada officials to warn people along the storm's likely track.

The weather information Elstone gathers at Maple Lake is seldom of direct importance to local people, but it can prove critical from time to time. He recalls being asked to testify at an insurance hearing investigating an occurrence in which a cottage apparently blew off its foundations at Kennis Lake. Data from stations in Peterborough and Muskoka suggested that winds that day had been too light to cause the observed damage, but Elstone's readings showed that winds had been sufficiently strong in this area to account for the incident, perhaps because of what he describes as the 'funnel effect' of surrounding hills.

Weather records for Haliburton County in Jim Elstone's possession date back to the 1880's. They were made by a number of different observers in various locations over the years. The original documents are now kept in archives, but using copies, he can look back at a century of weather, and relate conditions on any given day, to those that prevailed in the past.

Since about 1910, weather observers have had very accurate thermometers. Before that, the instruments were less precise, but still provided a close approximation of the actual temperature.

"Those old fellows were very, very precise in what they did," Elstone says with admiration. They also didn't hesitate to live up their reports with some earthy observations. As an example, he cites one observer who noted that it was so cold, his whiskey froze in the woodshed.

Another noted that on a particular day, he could hear the train whistles "pretty plain", which indicates that the air was dry and clear.

Other observations common to those early reports include when the cows began calving, and when the sap began running in the maples.

Elstone has carried on the tradition. His reports include facts about the natural world, such as when the first geese are seen flying south in the fall and returning in the spring. He also keeps track of ice in local lakes by cutting holes from time to time and measuring the depth.

In winter, most people in Haliburton County take a keen interest in the weather, especially when the temperature plunges. Household thermometers are used as authority to say that while it was -35C in Haliburton, it was -40C in West Guilford and -42C in Gelert. Well, it may be fun to compare relative temperatures, over a cup of coffee, and speculate about how cold it really was, but according to Elstone, a household thermometer is not a very accurate guide to actual temperatures.

"Very few household thermometers on the market have much of a degree of accuracy", he says. And the problem is often compounded by the location of the thermometer. Put it outside a window and heat from the house will distort the reading. Put it where the sun can reach it and the reading might be 10 or 20 degrees higher than the actual air temperature.

There are, however, places in the county that get colder than others. Lochlin and Gelert, for example, which sit in a valley between hills, will generally be colder than other places which are less sheltered.

How cold does it get in Haliburton? Cold enough to freeze car engines certainly, and cold enough to make life miserable for a week or two a year. But if anyone tells you that it was 50 below 'Fahrenheit' the other night, take the news with a grain of salt. In fact, the coldest officially recorded temperature in the area was -43.3 Celsius on January 13, 1912. The record was matched on January 23, 1976, and it has been threatened in succeeding winters.

The coldest temperature ever recored in Southern Ontario was reputed to have been registered at Kennis Lake, where the mercury once dipped to 48 degrees below zero Fahrenheit. But the reading was not taken at a CLIMAT station and is therefore not considered official.

The fact that temperatures are not reported daily from Haliburton, even though they are recorded daily, explains why television and radio weather reports often quote lows that are higher than the temperatures recorded in the area.

Everyone knows that weather reports can't always be counted on but Jim Elstone thinks we may be too hard on 'the weatherman'.

"I don't believe that we give forecasters as much credit as they really deserve", he says. "They're far from being perfect, but they have an excellent track record."

The standing joke among meteorologists is that forecasts are never wrong but the weather sometimes doesn't co operate.

Part of the problem with the credibility of weather information is that it is often diseminated by people who don't understand it. Precise terms such as localized snow squalls, snow flurries, rain and showers are used loosely and interchangeably, distorting their real meaning. As well, weather reports on radio stations may be reasonably accurate for a specific area, but they are broadcast over a large area, and people who hear them often don't understand that because it is snowing heavily in Lindsay for example, that doesn't mean that Haliburton can expect the same conditions momentarily.

And too, radio stations want to capture audience attention so they pick out the most sensational or exciting aspect of what may in fact be a rather banal forecast of rather benign weather.

In this area, there is only once source of accurate weather information, according to Elstone, and many people will agree.

Warnings about snow storms help keep accident toll down

Gordon Gee, heard regularly on CBC radio, has the most up-to-date and accurate forecasts for the area, and he is almost never wrong. In fact, he can predict what will happen across the province with uncanny accuracy.

A second accurate weather source, no longer available, was Percy Saltzman on Global television. Saltzman has "a fantastic understanding of meteorology," according to Elstone, and he also had a knack for making the weather interesting with his own special kind of wit.

Weather is a popular, even indispensable topic of conversation, but in the scheme of things, it is not very significant to most people. That is until they actually need the information for their own safety. In aviation, for example, accurate weather information is essential and it must be updated minute by minute. Two people work on aviation weather forecasting for every one who works on general weather for public consumption, Elstone says.

Canadian weather forecasters are considered the best in the world, Elstone says, perhaps because there is more variation weather here than in many other places on the globe, and consequently, forecasters have more practice.

Certainly they're a better bet than the farmer's almanac anyway, no matter how much store you like to set by it.

THE HALIBURTON COUNTY ECHO AND MINDEN RECORDER

Branch prepares for convention

By MABEL D. BRANNIGAN

Much of the recent activity around the Legion has been generated by preparation for the District Convention to be held at Haliburton on April 27, 28 and 29. This is the first time we have undertaken the responsibility of hosting the convention when some 300 Provincial and District officers and delegates from 54 Ontario branches will attend. Members, please note, that the parade will be held at 11:30 on Sunday morning.

The winners of the public speaking went on to compete in the Zone competitions in Fenelon Falls last month. A few of us were fortunate enough to hear the excellent presentations. Congratulations to all speakers. The winners went on to District level.

The lucky people in the clubroom draw on April 14 were: for the hind quarter of beef, Danny Dillon Haliburton; the 20 lb. turkey, Garnet Sedgwick, Haliburton; the 15 lb. turkey, Marjorie Sisson, West Gullford.

I was fortunate enough to attend the last Ladies Auxiliary meeting as guest of L.A. Zone Commander, Gwen Cox. It has often been said that the Ladies Auxiliary is the backbone of the branch. One is convinced of this after listening to the busy agenda of the meeting.

Many veterans are making plans in recognition of the 40th anniversary of D Day. One is Gerry Wilson, who will be leaving soon for France along with 16 other members of the former 3rd Division of the Royal Canadian Engineers.

A date to remember is the last Tuesday of every month when the Department of Veterans' Affairs representative attends at the Branch.

Nominations of Branch officers were held at the last General meeting, and nominations will re-open on May 3. At the same meeting, installation of officers will be conducted. Come out and vote for a member of your choice. Members are asked to bring, and to share in a pot luck supper.

Best wishes to Jake Yate-man in Princess Margaret Hospital, to Loyne Henderson in Sunnybrook, and to any sick comrades from whom we have not heard.

The Monmouth Library used book table was a popular spot on Saturday at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre in Wilberforce. The table was one of many in a flea market that was an added attraction for visitors to the community's Maple Syrup Festival. Hundreds of people turned out to enjoy the event and fill up on pancakes, sausages and maple syrup.

Dear readers, my life partner has left me and is no longer by my side. I will not be alone you know, for God will be my guide. Although she has left us, to Heaven she has gone. If it be God's will, the world just can't stand still. We must carry on. She has left us and I see her dear face no more. I hope to see her gain, upon that golden shore.

At this time I would like to thank all for their cards, kind words and sympathy: Rev. Westhaver for his comforting words, Gordon Monk, funeral director, for his expert service, and the Carnarvon ladies for serving a lovely lunch. God bless you all.

Rev. Westhaver of Minden United Church conducted a service in the chapel this April 17. We thank him for coming; Fred Ballard too, who came to play the music.

We have our administrator back after two weeks of holiday. We really miss him when he is away, and our head cook Mark Schell too. If they ever left us I don't know what we'd do.

Thelma Watson and Al Smith came back to us Tuesday. We were all so glad to see them come, fine music they do play. We always look forward when it is time to come back to us again.

Wednesday morning down at fitness and fun, the horse-shoe Wilbert Sisson won.

We have a new resident here at Hyland Crest, to describe her to you I'll try to do my best. Her name isn't Mabel; she was created on the craft room table. Now this may make you shiver, she has a lovely head and body but has no heart or liver. Abigail Jane Stewart is her name and her joints are all working well and she has no aches and pains.

The Lochlin ladies served a lunch this Thursday afternoon. Then Doris played and led us in a singing song with some lively tunes. Since this is Good Friday it is a holiday and we have no fun and fitness when our girls are away. We miss them when they are gone. So we residents will just play away and carry on.

Edith Welch's son Ron from Frankford along with his wife Pat, came and had dinner with his mother and Aunt Carrie. What a nice thing to do. Friday afternoon it was sing song time again. Jean Cox came with music to play, Grace sang several numbers from "The Sound of Music" and read several poems to cheer us up. Thank you ladies we would like to say.

It is nice to have Neil Walker back with us again, we haven't seen him since I can't remember when. Rev. George Elliott of Minden Anglican Church conducted a

A meeting was held by the Children's Aid Society on April 18 at the Public Health Unit in Haliburton. Members met to say farewell to Mrs. Cavanagh who has served as representative for the Kawartha Haliburton district. The Cavanaghs are moving to northern Alberta. The new representative for the Children's Aid Society will be Gina Robertson who lives in South Wilberforce.

Everyone is into fitness these days. One way to turn exercise into a fun experience is to play baseball. The Wilberforce girls' baseball team are now warming up on Sunday evenings at 6:30. They will be practising for a month and welcome anyone interested in joining the club. No experience is necessary. They need more players, fans and a coach. We were proud of their accomplishments last year, let's make 1984 even better. Is there a coach out there? We need you.

There was a mistake in last week's column about the proceeds of the Senior Citizen's quilt going toward the play school. They have made a quilt and will decide later about where to place the proceeds. Members of the new play school have made a quilt that will be raffled for their benefit.

We arranged to have beautiful sunny weather over the weekend to encourage our tourist friends and they arrived in great numbers. The annual Maple Syrup Festival drew a good crowd to the Memorial Centre on Saturday. Extra tables had been added this year to display a great variety of saleable goods and there was great interest shown by the buyers. There was a continual line up of people at the food counter where Shirley Deterling produced perfect pancakes to accompany the tasty brown sausages served up by Jim. Many volunteers were needed to keep up with the constant demand for supplies and because of their efforts things moved along at a brisk pace. There was a plentiful supply of maple syrup that seems of very good quality this year.

At the tables could be seen a display of handicrafts, antique china, and a quantity of old school text books. The Kinsmen sold tickets for one of their good causes, a bake sale was popular, and there was an ear piercing stand, a health food booth, and hundreds of paperback books. Over at the curling rink was a sale of cottage furniture conducted by the Wilberforce Veneer Company.

In the evening a dance was held at the Memorial Centre where many joined together to dance to the music of "Lodestone".

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Branch 624 held a successful bake sale and joined with their comrades in the evening at the Legion Hall. A draw was held for their beautiful quilt and the lucky winner was Paul Morgan of Toronto.

A good news announcement to finish off: Born in Bowmanville hospital on Sunday, April 22 was Joshua Chapman. He weighed 8 lb. 12 oz. and is the son of Gail and Nicholas Chapman. Joshua is the first grandson of Allan and Jackie Scott. His other proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chapman of Maple Grove.

On May 18, the "We. Us and Co." Craft Shop will once again be open for business, every weekend until the end of June and then up until the middle of September business hours will be Tuesday through Sunday from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. If at any time you would like to call in, these folks will open up their lovely little shop so that you can browse awhile. There are hand made leather items, knitted and crocheted articles, ceramics and lots of fun things too. The tourist information for the '84 season should soon be in and it's all free, even the road maps. It would really be worth you while to stop in and have a look.

On April 13, seven members of the Norland Leathercraft Society travelled to Woodstock to attend the 34th annual convention for the Canadian Society of Creative Leathercraft. Those attending were Hilda Chynoweth, Lillian Cruse and Phyllis McHale of Norland, Peggy Weaver, Jean Montgomery and Willemine Liscombe of Cobocok and Emma Windatt of Fencelon Falls. Hilda Chynoweth was presented with a craftsman award for one piece of leatherwork she had on display. Plans are underway for the entire club to try for the Weston Trophy next year. This is presented to a club each year with five pieces of leatherwork being submitted for judging and the club with the highest score being the winners. If anyone is interested in leathercraft and would like to join the club, information can be obtained by calling 454-3206. Meetings are held once a month.

Don't forget folks, Kinmount's Meals on Wheels, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays beginning April 23. The Meals on Wheels begins Tuesday May 8. A two day advance notice would be appreciated in order to have meals prepared and get our drivers together. Give Ken Hyams a call at 488-2032 if you would like to take advantage of this wonderful service. We're looking forward to hearing from you.

Jim Nightingale was the lucky winner of $22.50 in the Kinmount Legion 50/50 draw last week.

Sylvia Eckstein and her daughter Judy could use a bit of help following the fire that cost them their home and belongings recently. If you'd care to donate linens, canned goods or other smaller usable items you could drop them at St. James Anglican Church and Father Brooks would see that Sylvia received them.

The "Crazy Eights" had a potluck birthday party in honour of Marc Morrow at the home of Mitzie Alzner. After the dinner, gifts were opened and the evening concluded with card playing.

Results of the Galway Wednesday nighters euchre games are: ladies' high, Ida Young; ladies' low, Betty Stuart; men's high, Leon Wright; men's low, Jim Nightingale; and most lone hands, Bill Menard.

I had an invitation to stop in at Taylor's Esso one morning last week to view Betty and Eric's house plants which will soon be going outside into the ground. Betty showed me their beautiful Amaryllis and the most beautiful Azaleas I think I've ever seen. They had one in salmon, a white and another just coming into a red bloom. They seem to me to be more of a small flowering tree/bush but no matter what, they are just gorgeous. There was an old record player/victrola with a red horn set near the flowers and it gave off the appearance of being a huge morning glory. Thanks Betty and Eric for the impromptu show. I enjoyed it very much.

While on the subject of flowers, the Kinmount and Area Horticultural Society is inviting new members. I for one, can be reached at 488-2353 if you wish to become one of our members. It's lots of fun.

Sincere sympathy to family and friends of Bob Nevison who died April 18.

I enjoyed very much a phone visit with Father Brooks recently and a lovely visit with Roni and Christina Brelsford Thursday evening, April 19.

I was sorry to hear the grandson of June and Bob Cooper is in hospital and hope he is back to good health very soon. Helen Jones is still in Oshawa General Hospital and I'm sure, would appreciate a card. Marilyn Cameron has been having a lot of colds of late. Bill Moss Jr. was home in Norland for a few days with a viral infection. Dot Crego has been ill with flu recently. Cinday and son John Hill have been sick and this is but a few of our folks who need your good thoughts.

There was an explosion followed by fire at the home of Bruce and Michelle Newman recently and I understand a propane stove was the culprit. The door window and part of the frame was blown out and a back wall of the mobile home was damaged by the ensuing fire. Needless to say there was quite a mess to be cleaned up following but luckily no one was hurt. Bruce was away at the time and his father rushed over from next door to help Michelle. One of their young daughters refused to go back into the house 'til all was settled again.

The Kinmount Public Library will be holding a sale of some paperbacks and a number of hard cover books on the main street, in the lot beside Dettman's Dry Goods, on Saturday, May 19 at 9:00 a.m. These books have been donated to our library but at the moment there is just not enough shelf space to hold them. Money realized from the sale of these books goes back into the library for fixtures or anything they may need. If you wish to donate any books it would be very much appreciated if they were left at the book drop at our library, any time in the next couple of weeks.

We enjoyed having our children for the holiday weekend.

This one sounds good and is called 'Birthday Dessert': 1 jelly roll, 1 can Eagle Brand milk, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 48 small marshmallows, 10 maraschino cherries, 1/2 cup crushed pineapple (drained), 1/2 pint whipped cream. Slice jelly roll and place in bottom of greased dish. Mix next five ingredients. Fold in half of the whipped cream. Pour over jelly roll and frost with the remaining whipped cream. Refrigerate.

I enjoyed a visit with Boyd Williamson and his mom one day last week.

One of the earlier yard sales of the year was held in the lot beside Taylor's Esso last Saturday.

Well folks, I hope you had a joyous Easter. Be here next week, read the Echo and give me a call at 488-2353.

Don't forget too, to get involved with our upcoming Bicentennial.

Gooderham News

By MARY HADLEY

One of Gooderham's respected pioneers, Thomas McColl, passed away at the Haliburton Extensicare on Friday, April 13, in his 88th year.

Although he was in failing health for the past year or so, he maintained a serenity and kindness which endeared him to all who visited him.

Over 60 years ago he and his two brothers, Alfred and Sandy, were considered the most famous "fiddling" family in Glamorgan Township. It was said by someone that when this trio placed their bows upon the strings of their violins, they played as one man.

He was section foreman for many years until his retirement. He loved to tell of these early railroading days and of seeing the first I.B. and O train, the Mary Ann, arrive in the village.

Upon his retirement he busied himself with his hobby of fashioning yokes, paddles, and axe handles. Many of these pieces, so well handcrafted, are still proudly displayed.

He and his wife, Bertha, were staunch supporters of the United Church in Gooderham. He was largely responsible for the renovation of the church to its present state, both with his own labour and financial aid. For years, until their health forbade, they cared for the church, receiving no monetary reward.

He is survived by his wife, Bertha; one son, Ray; three daughters, Elda, Marion and Dorothy; three sisters, Maggie, Christiann, and Merle;

one brother, Alfred; as well as several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Funeral services were largely attended on Monday afternoon in the United Church by those who came to show their esteem. The minister, Maurice Bradley, spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing family.

Nephews, all named McColl, acted as pall bearers. Interment took place in the Glamorgan cemetery.

After spending the winter months with her sister, Nellie MacDuff, Susie Madill has returned to her own home. This 92 year old lady is always pleased to receive a visit from her many friends.

Friends of Beulah and Gordon Barr welcome them home after having spent the winter in Lakeland, Florida.

We are glad to report that Alberta Switzer is feeling much improved following surgery and is gradually getting around again.

The Gooderham Bridge Club met on Tuesday evening in the school. Some 24 players were present. This included 13 guests from the Cardiff club. It appeared that all enjoyed a pleasant evening. Gwen Taylor, as hostess, served lunch. Fred Vanderland took top honours with Bruce Armstrong coming in second. Don Finlay did not have good luck in his cards and so received the consolation prize.

Haliburton County Home Support Services invite everyone to a meeting at Pinestone Inn on Friday, April 27. This is a welcome back to the returning snow birds. Reservations should be made now for dinner by phoning 457-2941. An afternoon programme promises to be interesting. Don't miss it.

The fetters that held our waters fast all winter are now broken. The ice went out of Pine Lake on Good Friday. Spring seems really here with the singing of the frogs each evening from the swamps in full Pandean chorus.

Awards were presented at the hockey banquet at the Haliburton Legion last Monday. Among those lucky players were two from Gooderham who played with the Haliburton teams. Top player on the OMHA Atom team was Jason Billings who, with his scoring record, helped the team to compete in the Provincial semi-finals. Colin Hunter won the award for the most improved player on the OMHA Bantam team. Congratulations, boys.

Correction: In last week's news I mentioned the fire at Walter Leveck's home. The article said it was a "big" home but should have read a "log" home.

The Junior Boys' Club are holding a bottle drive on Saturday, April 28 from 10 a.m. until noon. The proceeds go toward a camp out in Algonquin Park. Any help in supporting the boys in this effort will be appreciated.

Maggie Haywood is a patient in Peterborough Civic Hospital. We trust she will soon feel improved.

Did you know

By BAMBI GILDER

Did you know...that if you own an off-road vehicle, you must have it registered with the Ministry of Transportation and Communications (MTC) by June 1 of this year?

An off-road vehicle is any two or three-wheeled vehicle, plus specific types with four or more wheels designed primarily for recreational use. Those licensed for on-road use or exempt by regulation are not included. Exempted off-road vehicles include: golf carts; road building machines and motorized wheelchairs. The one-time registration fee is $25, and vehicles cannot be registered to anyone under 16 years of age. In addition, as of August 1, 1984, vehicle liability insurance will be required for all off-road vehicles driven anywhere other than on land owned or occupied by the vehicle owner.

For more information on this and many other subjects, why not drop in or give us a call at the County Information Centre (across from Emmerson Lumber) in Haliburton. We are open Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and our telephone number is 457-2733. And remember, you will never know the answer until you ask the question.

Norland Natter

By KELLY GRAHAM

Well spring has arrived and with it many festive and interesting activities. On that note I will start my column describing some of the planned events.

On Saturday May 12 there will be a Bicentennial celebration; an Old Fashioned Picnic in Ward Park, Norland, and admission is free. From 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. the citizens of this area and their friends will compete in log sawing, nail hammering, egg throwing, telling the best tall story (two minute time limit), wheelbarrow and three-legged racing and balloon throwing. It is hoped, also, to have a hog calling duel. In addition to that there will be a pie and cake baking contest and a three pitch game between Laxton Council and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Norland Volunteer Firefighters Association. Also planned is frog racing but potential contestants be warned; it is illegal to have a bullfrog in your possession before July 1. Leopard frogs and little green ones are okay though. If you play a musical instrument you are cordially invited to bring it with you. There will be a prize for the best performance of the afternoon. I hope everyone will come out to Ward Park to celebrate Ontario's birthday.

On the first Saturday in August there will be a Country and Western Talent Show in Ward Park in Norland. The Ladies' Auxiliary, which is sponsoring the event, will be offering many prizes in the general categories of male and female vocalists, groups, soloists, and dance groups. It is expected that there will be a bake sale and craft show as well. Application forms may be obtained by writing to Darlene England, R.R. #1, Norland, Ontario K0M 2L0.

Now here's some news from Coboconk Public School. Regarding their talent show - because the staging of the show requires additional stage area the seating capacity will be slightly reduced. Therefore, for the shows on May 2 and 3 tickets will be issued for admission. Although the tickets are free you must have one to get in. Please contact the show about getting one.

On Wednesday, April 25 Miss Gladys Suggitt and Mrs. Graham will be visiting Coboconk Public School to talk to the students about pioneers and school in earlier years. Parents are also welcome to attend this session beginning at 1:00 p.m.

On Thursday, April 19 the grades five to eight students at Coboconk P.S. are holding a rummage sale in Mr. Davidson's classroom (grades five and six) beginning at 2:00 p.m. Parents and members of the community are invited to visit.

On Wednesday, May 2 the Polka Dot Door will be at the Academy Theatre in Lindsay for two performances at 4:30 and 7:30 p.m. The show is recommended for children under 10 years of age. Advance tickets are $4 but $5 at the door. Anyone wishing tickets should contact Katherine Green at 454-8461.

Before I go any further I would like to make a correction. Two weeks ago it was printed that the students of Coboconk Public School raised almost $100 dollars in a read-a-thon for multiple sclerosis. In fact the children raised almost $1000. I apologize for the mistake and once again congratulate the students for their excellent effort.

The Fenelon Falls Senior Citizens bowling banquet was held at the Norland Community Hall last Saturday April 14. There they elected their executives for the next year. They are as follows: president - Jesse Buxcey, vice president - Bud Harrison, second vice president - Bill Grunswell, secretary - Hilda Buxcey, treasurer - Myrtle Grunswell.

Next week Jesse and Hilda Buxcey, of Norland, are leaving for England. While over there Mr. Buxcey will be presented with a medal for bravery by the Belgium Government. This medal should have been presented 44 years ago during the Second World War. Congratulations to Mr. Buxcey on this great honour.

On April 16 the Women's Institute finished off their cooking course with a potluck lunch. The course was given through the Department of Agriculture. Teachers were

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Archer and family of London, Ontario spent the weekend at their cottage at Matabanik.

The church was filled to capacity on Sunday morning and thanks must go to the choir for their lovely singing. Much hard work and many practices go into their effort which is very much appreciated.

Bill Snyder of Guelph called on the Max McKays on his way to the cottage on Comak Island for the holiday weekend.

The building that was the former gift shop has taken on a very new look and everything is looking well for opening time. It is so nice to see these buildings being put to good use and our best wishes go out to Brock Laws in his new business venture.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Farrell and daughter spent the holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill O'Reilly and helped celebrate Bill's birthday on Saturday. Congratulations and best wishes.

Carnarvon News

Mr. and Mrs. Les Dennison were holiday weekend visitors with Mrs. Grace Renouf.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Archer is a patient in the Haliburton Hospital after suffering a slight stroke and we extend our best wishes to him for a quick recovery. His wife Della also is suffering some poor health and is confined to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Farrell and daughter spent the holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill O'Reilly and helped celebrate Bill's birthday on Saturday. Congratulations and best wishes.

"In days gone by the floors in movie houses could be strewn with trash; nowadays there is more trash on the floor."

The lake is almost empty of ice and I think that what is left will disintegrate shortly. Last year it was the 25th when the last of the ice disappeared. How nice to see the open water and enjoy the beautiful sunshine that we were blessed with all last week. The boats will soon be zooming around and let's hope the water warms us in a hurry so we can get in swimming.

Shelah and Charley Primer and family, who lost their home and all their belongings in a fire recently, would like to express their thanks and appreciation for all the kindness and consideration shown them after their loss. Their friends, neighbours and acquaintances out-did themselves providing shelter and food and donating gifts of food, useful items of clothing and household goods. A benefit dance was held in the Dorset Community Centre at which many gifts and money was received by the Primers, who would also like to thank the Dorset Fire Department for their quick response and the hard work they did trying to save the home and protecting the surrounding buildings.

We wish Art and Dot Lock a very happy 45th wedding anniversary which they celebrated on April 19. Robbie Drebbitt celebrated his 6th birthday on the 13th. Happy birthday to Todd Brooks who was 12 on April 18 and to Shane Roper who was 10 on April 23.

We hadn't known earlier but have learned that Mac McLean was in hospital and had surgery several weeks ago, but we are happy to report that he is at home and recuperating very nicely.

April is cancer month. If you have not had a canvasser call on you as yet, expect one before the end of the month.

Here is an appeal from the teachers at the Dorset School. Ruth McLennan and Diane Claus. Since 1984 is the Bicentennial for Ontario, an attempt is being made to acquaint the children with some of Ontario's past, and particularly their roots - the history of Dorset and the surrounding country of Muskoka and Haliburton. They would appreciate any input by the people of the village.

Pictures of places, people, logging, lumbering, tourist guiding, forest fire fighting, trapping, storekeeping, or any other pictures of interest would be helpful. Antiques that would portray the way of life both in and outside the home. Also, volunteers to teach the children how to make bread, butter, jam, quilts, knitting, snowshoes, canoes, trapping, etc. An open house will be held at the school sometime in May, with the children taking part in a Pioneer Fair. The date will be announced later and the public will be welcome.

Congratulations to Scott and Peggy Peterson who became the proud parents of a baby girl on April 5. Kacie Marie was born at Huntsville Hospital and weighed 7 lbs., 2 ozs. Mom, Dad and baby are all doing well.

H.H. If you find the softer cheeses difficult to grate just pop them into the freezer for 20-25 minutes and you will find that they grate much more easily.

A Pinch of Sand

By H. JEAN BROWN

Among other things Virginia is famous for its hams. These are never chemically treated or artificially smoked. They are bone-in hams made the old fashioned way. They may not look like much. The outer skin is usually dark and dried and wrinkled looking. Properly cooked, served with glazes or special gravies or sauces they are superb. One and a half pounds of bone-in ham allowed per person will yield generous servings with left-overs.

Baked Virginia Ham

1 8 to 14 lb. ham, partially or fully cooked
1 - 2 qts. dry white wine (cheapest possible)
1 bay leaf

1/2 tsp. coarse pepper

If skin-on ham soak 2 hrs. in cold water, then drain, cover again and bring to boil. Simmer 30 mins. Cook and remove skin with sharp knife. Place ham in very large pot, pour wine over, add water to completely cover. Add bay leaf and pepper. Bring to boil, skimming any foam that rises, reduce heat, simmer 30 mins. Preheat oven to 350°. Remove ham reserving about 2 cups of cooking liquid (rest can be used for soup). Trim fat from ham, leaving about 1/4" layer. Set ham on rack of heavy roasting pan. Slash decorative crosses on fat, spoon reserved liquid over. Bake about 11 mins. per pound. If glazing brush ham with glaze every 15 mins. after the first hour of baking. Cool ham 10 mins. before carving.

Orange Rum Glaze

1/2 cup maple syrup
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
1/2 cup fresh orange juice
2 1/2 tblsp. dark rum
2 tsp. dijon mustard
2 tsp. grated peel

In saucepan blend all ingredients, bring to boil and cook about 8 mins., add additional tsp. of rum and peel. Brush ham as above until all glaze is used. Makes 1/4 cup.

Honey Mustard Glaze

1/2 cup honey
pepper
2 tblsp. coarse grain mustard
4 tsp. dijon mustard
Blend and use as directed above.

Raisin Sauce

1 cup raisins
1/4 tsp. cloves
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup brown sugar packed
1 1/2 tblsp. cornstarch
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tblsp. vinegar

Combine raisins with 1 1/2 cups water in saucepan. Boil 5 mins., stir in dry ingredients, cook thick, blend in vinegar. Serve hot.

During the 1700's and 1800's giant plantations lined the Mississippi from New Orleans to Memphis. Many of these columned Greek revival mansions have been restored and are open to the public today. Even the names Magnolia Court, Oak Alley, Rosedown, Destrehan and Nottaway are redolent of the gracious past, the heritage of the south. The following recipes have been handed down virtually unchanged, served in the restaurant that is featured in Asphodel Plantation.

Chocolate Rum

1/2 cup very strong coffee
6 eggs separated
3-4 tblsp. dark rum
1 12 oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate

Heat coffee and chocolate cut in pieces until the chocolate is melted. Remove from heat and stir in beaten egg yolks. Add rum. Cool slightly and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Divide among 6 dessert dishes. Refrigerate for 12 hours. Serve with sweetened whipped cream and chopped pecans.

The Moravians of North Carolina and the Shakers of Kentucky were religious groups mostly from Germany originally. They left profound marks on southern cooking. Their cooking is reminiscent of the Pennsylvania Dutch and retains the distinct flavour of their European heritage.

Deep Dish Country Pie

2 3lb. chickens
1 tsp. thyme
2 tblsp. flour
1 tblsp. salt
1 tsp. sage
2 cups cubed ham
1 tsp. coarse pepper
1/4 cup butter divided

pastry
Place chicken, salt, pepper, sage and thyme in large Dutch oven; add water to cover, bring to boil, cover and simmer one hour to tender. Remove chicken, reserving one cup of broth. Cool, then remove meat from bones and cut into large chunks. Line a 2 quart baking dish with two thirds of the pastry. Place chicken in shell. Melt 2 tblsp. of butter in skillet, stir in flour and cook until smooth. Gradually stir in broth, cook until thickened, stirring. Pour evenly over chicken. Place ham pieces over chicken mixture and dot with remaining butter. Top with remaining pastry, trimming edges. Cut slits to allow steam to escape. Decorate with pastry cut-outs and brush with cream or beaten egg to glaze.

Pastry

3 cups all purpose flour
1 cup lard
1 tsp. salt
5-6 tblsp. ice water
Combine flour and salt in a bowl. Cut in lard until it resembles coarse meal. Add water. Stir with fork to moisten. Roll 1/8" thick.

Minden News

By MAIZIE AUSTEN

The Minden Agricultural Society will be holding a general meeting Wednesday, April 25, downstairs at the Minden Municipal Office at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

The Ontario annual Pitch-In Campaign will take place from May 7 to 13. The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, along with the Ontario Ministry of Environment, are supporting the anti-litter event. They are providing over 100,000 garbage bags free to participating groups.

Household Hint: Butter - scrape off the excess butter. For washables, rub with liquid detergent, then wash in warm sudsy water. For non-washables, sponge with carbon tetrachloride or solvent.

I hope your throat is feeling better, Mrs. Robinson.

We had Mary-Lou, Carl and Jennifer Packard drop in for a short visit on Friday on their way to Lindsay.

I hope you all had a nice Easter holiday.

There was no card party last week so no winners to report. The next card party will be on Thursday, April 26 at St. Paul's Anglican Church.

A person cannot teach what he does not know nor lead where he does not go.

There will be movies at the Cultural Centre for the children Friday, April 27 from 7:15 to 8:15 p.m.

Anita and Hank Wiseman had Anita's sister visit them over the Easter weekend.

If you have any news for me to print please call 286-3607.

There will be an exhibition of Children's Art on display at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery from May 7 to 26.

Mary McDuff of Lindsay visited Charlie Palmer last Saturday. I hope you are feeling better, Mary.

Last week and Easter weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Robinson were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray of Toronto. The Robinson's son Bradley of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Coldric of Toronto.

I dislike rainy days (as it is this morning as I write this but it is a lot better weather than they have had in the United States).

Congratulations to all the girls on their finals on the Health Care Aid Course.

Did you get your ticket on the beautiful quilt to be raffled off in May? The tickets are on sale at Sandalwoods on the main street in Minden, as well as at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery.

There will be an exhibition on the Trials and Tribulations of the United Empire Loyalists by Parks Canada through the Federal Government as their part in the Ontario Bicentennial Celebration at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery from April 30 to May 5. It will only be on for the one week. Be sure to get to see it. It will be educational as well as interesting. That is all for this week. I hope to see you next week. Stay well and drive carefully.

Saving black duck

the United States regulations were designed to reduce the U.S. kill by 25 percent.

To complement this, the Canadian Wildlife Service developed several options for daily bag limits which are being thoroughly discussed. The preferred option is a daily bag limit of two black ducks in the "Hudson Bay" and "Northern" districts and one for the remainder of Ontario. This would result in an approximate 30 percent reduction which would be somewhat better than the 25 percent objective. Most of the killing occurs in central and southern Ontario where the bag limit would be one. Thus, the reduction would occur particularly in areas where black duck populations appear most stressed.

Although reducing the kill rate may not halt or reverse the decline, a trial period of perhaps five years would indicate whether or not hunting mortality is an important contributory factor. Meanwhile, waterfowl managers will continue to develop long-term approaches to improve the status of black ducks. If hunters and managers work together, it may not be long until black duck numbers are on the increase.

Easter Lamb Sale Held In Lindsay

A total of 208 new crop lambs were sold in the special Easter Lamb sale at the Lindsay Community Sale Barn on Monday, April 9. This sale was sponsored by the Victoria County Sheep Producers.

The weighted average price was $1.22 per pound. The average lamb weighed 52.5 lbs. and brought a gross return of $63.19 to the producer.

The lambs ranged in weight from 28 pounds to 71 pounds, and the price range was from $1 to $1.40 per pound, depending on size and quality. The quality of the lambs offered was very good, with only two or three older woody looking lambs in the entire lot.

The bulk of the lambs - 171 head - were Suffolk and Suffolk cross. These lambs averaged $64.50 per head. The remaining 37 lambs were mainly Dorset or Dorset crosses, and brought $57.15 per head on average.

The larger lambs brought a higher total return on average to the producer. 64 lambs weighing 60 lbs. and over averaged $75.58 per head; 68 lambs weighing 50 to 59 lbs. brought $64.31 per head; and the 76 lambs weighing under 50 lbs. averaged $51.63 per head.

Rebate From Manufacturer Not Taxable

Did you receive a rebate from the manufacturer on a piece of farm equipment which you purchased in 1983? If so, this rebate does not have to be included as income on your income tax report.

The policy of Revenue Canada permits a manufacturer's rebate to be treated as a nothing. A farmer purchasing a new item of machinery will negotiate the best deal possible with his local dealer. The purchase price paid to the dealer is the cost to be considered for investment tax credit, for future capital gains, and as the initial cost for capital cost allowance.

If the dealer provides a refund or discount then the purchase price must be reduced by that amount for these above calculations. However, if the manufacturer, possibly as a marketing plan, sends a refund cheque to the farmer, that cheque does not reduce the purchase price and does not have to be counted as income.

very lovely communion service in the chapel this Saturday. The choir members sang so beautifully while Melissa Stephens played the music. We are sure you all will be blessed with this lovely service here at Hyland Crest.

Well readers by the time this letter reaches you, the glad Easter will have passed. We hope you had a lovely time and didn't run out of gas.

An Easter Prayer
Lord, now that spring is in the world,

Filled with the wine of thy great love, lift thou me up. Raise thou heart as flowers arise

To greet the glory of thy day, With soul as clean as lilies are, And white as they.

Let me not fear the darkness now, Since life and light break through thy tomb;

No more consume. Show me that thou art April, Lord,

And though the flowers and the grass, Then, when awake the soft spring winds,

I'll hear thee pass.

Bill and Rae Moore would like to thank all friends, neighbours and relatives for the lovely cards, flowers and gifts sent to them during Bill's illness. Also the many phone calls at this time, and the transportation. Especially thanking and appreciating the speed and efficiency of the ambulance drivers and Dr. Abraham, Dr. Sajo, and the splendid care of the hospital nurses. Bill and Rae Moore 27-P-25

I would like to thank my friends and family for their many acts of kindness shown to me while a patient in Toronto General and upon my return home. Thank you for your continued prayers, cards, flowers, phone calls and many gifts of food. Special thanks to all the ladies who brought in meals for our family. They were such a treat. Thank you all for caring so much. Sincerely, Carolyn Greenfield 27-B-25

The family of the late Thomas McCall wish to extend heartfelt thanks for the many acts of kindness at the time of our bereavement in the loss of a loving husband, father, grandfather and great grandfather. We sincerely appreciated the floral tributes, donations to the Heart Fund, as well as other worthy causes, the cards, phone calls and messages of sympathy. Special thanks to the ladies of the community who prepared and served lunch, to Maurice Bradley for his comforting words, to Mrs. Goff and to the Mackey Funeral Home. Also thanks to Dr. Good, Dr. Heyes, Dr. Hartwick and staff of Haliburton Hospital and Extendercare. Your kindness in our time of sorrow has helped us more than any words can express. UCW meet in Lindsay

By WILMA TAMBLYN

Faith must be exercised in our everyday life, stated Rev. Robert Lindsey of the Division of Mission as he addressed the 22nd annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference United Church Women which was held in Queen Street United Church, Lindsay on April 3 and 4.

Faith in action is the 101 ways we go about our daily lives, he said. The women were reminded that attitudes and values shift and that they must be alert to see their weaknesses.

Rev. Lindsey drew to the attention of his audience the struggle in Central America to shake off colonialism. He also noted that the pornography industry is mushrooming. All these issues are complex and conflicts are inevitable, he said.

Rev. Lindsey urged that social action be taken soberly. He concluded his remarks stating "Be doers of the Word, not hearers only".

Minden W.I. elects officers

By JEANNE SEARS

Mrs. Lyman Cox read a verse, "Springtime" to open the April 18 meeting of Minden Women's Institute at the Cultural Centre. Seventeen members and one guest were present, paid their dues and turned in plants. The yearly reports were given by various officers and correspondence was read. Some ladies turned in their names for the Victoria East bus to Erland Lee Home June 4, and the group is to take jams, jellies, pickles, etc. for sale there. Delegates to the District annual meeting at Cameron are Mrs. L. Cox, Mrs. C. Brown, Mrs. A. Kernohan, Mrs. C. Lacey with other members going as well. A donation of $17.20 to the District this year will go toward "Clear Water for All" Fund.

There were several changes in the slate of officers, a new vice president, Mrs. Ern Hewitt, a new District director, Mrs. M. Bunker, alternate Mrs. C. Lacey, and the convenorship of Agriculture and Canadian Industries is still open. Mrs. Moore reported sending 12 cards since the last meeting and also a variety of 184 cards during the past year at a cost of $69. Collections for this fund and Pennies for Friendship were taken. The meeting adjourned and auctioneer, Irene Moore, sold the plants turned in earlier. A social half hour followed with a snack and a cup of tea.

Naturalists

and defended by the Provincial Government through the official planning process and other programs on Crown land. How the defense will work remains unclear. Given that we're dealing with Guidelines rather than a policy for the present time, there's no real stick for the province to wield. Nor are there any of the carrots conservationists have called for, including tax rebates for wetland owners.

So we're still miles away from an effective wetlands program. Drainage (Glen Elber wetland), highway construction (Keswick Marsh) and excessive tax assessments (St. Clair Marshes), continue to threaten provincially significant wetlands and the Guidelines themselves give distressingly little attention to the ecological benefits of wetlands in maintaining natural diversity.

But Pope now has Cabinet approval to go to bat to save these areas within MNR's existing powers, and his cabinet colleagues at least, are obliged to play ball with him. So the 64 dollar question in the coming month is: will he try for a homerun, strikeout or continue relying on environmental groups to pinch hit, as he has in such cases as eastern Ontario's Alfred Bog.

Copies of the Guidelines should be available through your local MNR District Office. Give them a careful reading, then drop Pope a line urging him to do his best during the coming months and letting him know that you will be watching his progress carefully.

Obituary:

Thomas McColl

Thomas McColl of Gooderham, Ontario, died Friday, April 13. He was 87.

Born in Gooderham, he was the son of Arthur and Priscilla McColl (nee Madill). He was a lifetime resident of the area. He worked for various lumber camps in his youth, and in 1920, he joined Canadian National Railways, for whom he continued to work until his retirement in 1961.

He was a member of Gooderham United Church and a 53 year member of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees.

Surviving are his wife, Bertha May McColl, children Elda (Mrs. Jack Hunter) of Gooderham; Ray, of Bowmanville; Marion (Mrs. Jack Judson), of Caesarea; Dorothy (Mrs. Ted Ingle) of Oshawa; brothers and sisters Christie Madill and Mirl MacDuff, both of Gooderham, Margaret McCarrell of Peterborough, and Alfred of Eagle Lake. He was predeceased by a sister, Ellen Switzer, and brothers John, Alexander, Albert and William.

Also surviving are 11 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday, April 16 at Gooderham United Church, with Maurice Bradley officiating. Pall bearers were nephews Moss McColl, Billy McColl, Fred McColl, Clayton McColl, Glen McColl and Murray McColl.
